

DISCLAIMER & NO-LIABILITY STATEMENT

Last updated: _____

Welcome to Scopium and Scopium Exchange — a decentralized platform for creating and trading cryptocurrency tokens, as well as streaming live content and accepting community donations.

This Disclaimer governs your use of our services, and by using our websites (scopium.com, scopium.io) or any associated products, features, or content (collectively, the “Platform”), you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to the terms outlined below. If you do not agree, do not use the Platform.

1. No Financial or Investment Advice

Nothing on this Platform constitutes or should be interpreted as financial, investment, legal, or tax advice. Scopium does not act as a financial advisor, broker, fiduciary, exchange, or custodian.

Any information provided on the Platform, including token statistics, pricing data, creator tools, whitepapers, user-generated content, and community insights, is for general informational purposes only. You are solely responsible for conducting your own due diligence and consulting licensed professionals before making any financial or investment decisions.

2. Use at Your Own Risk

The use of the Platform, including but not limited to the creation of tokens, trading of tokens, participation in livestream donations, and interaction with third-party wallets or content, is entirely at your own risk.

While we have implemented strong security practices and decentralized frameworks, the nature of blockchain technology and decentralized finance (DeFi) involves inherent risks, including but not limited to:

- Smart contract vulnerabilities
- Token value volatility (including complete loss of value)
- Chain forks or protocol changes
- Phishing attacks, wallet breaches, or key mismanagement
- Loss of access to your funds due to misplacing your private keys or seed phrases
- Incompatibility with third-party tools, plugins, or platforms
- Regulatory actions, bans, or policy shifts in your jurisdiction

Scopium does not guarantee the integrity, availability, or security of any blockchain, token, or transaction you engage in through the Platform.

3. Self-Custody Responsibilities

All wallet integrations on Scopium are non-custodial. This means:

- You control your own private keys.
- We cannot access, freeze, reverse, or recover your funds.
- If you lose access to your wallet or private keys, we cannot help you regain it.

You are solely responsible for securing your digital wallet and understanding how it works.

4. Token Creation and Listing

Token creation on Scopium is fully automated and not subject to manual review or approval.

We do not endorse, vet, or regulate tokens created using our tools. The existence of a token on the Platform does not imply credibility, legality, or financial value.

You are solely responsible for:

- The legality and regulatory compliance of any token you create
- The truthfulness and accuracy of any claims made about your project
- Disclosing risks, usage terms, and obligations to any purchasers or participants

We reserve the right to remove access to tokens or terminate accounts that violate applicable laws or our terms of service.

5. Performance and Forward-Looking Statements

All mentions of token performance, price movements, or future functionality are speculative in nature and provided without guarantees. Past performance is not indicative of future results. Any statements regarding our roadmap, features, token launches, or future developments are forward-looking and may change due to technical, legal, or strategic reasons.

6. Tax Compliance

You are solely responsible for reporting, calculating, and paying any applicable taxes in your jurisdiction arising from:

- Token sales or purchases
- Capital gains or losses
- Streaming income or donations
- Value-added tax (VAT), goods and services tax (GST), or equivalent obligations

Scopium does not provide tax documentation or reporting tools and disclaims all liability related to tax compliance or financial reporting.

7. No Liability for Third-Party Content or Services

The Platform may feature third-party content, wallet providers, browser extensions, smart contracts, or links to external websites and dApps. Scopium does not control, endorse, or assume responsibility for the accuracy, functionality, safety, or reliability of these third-party offerings.

Your interactions with such services are entirely at your own discretion and risk. Scopium disclaims any liability for losses, fraud, or disputes arising from your use of third-party tools or content.

8. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law:

- Scopium and its affiliates shall not be liable for any indirect, incidental, consequential, special, or exemplary damages, including but not limited to lost profits, loss of data, system failure, or unauthorized access to user information.
- Scopium's maximum aggregate liability shall be zero (0), regardless of the cause of action or theory of liability.

By using this Platform, you waive any claim, known or unknown, against Scopium arising from your use or inability to use the Platform or any part thereof.

9. Regulatory Notice

Scopium is not currently registered or licensed with any financial or crypto regulatory authority. Use of the Platform may be restricted or prohibited in certain jurisdictions. It is your responsibility to determine whether using the Platform is lawful under the laws of your location.

We reserve the right to implement jurisdictional restrictions, comply with lawful government requests, or modify features without prior notice.
